

A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.	Comn	nunity Information
Requestor Information  First & Last name of requestor:  Email:  Phone:  Date:  How did you hear about our organization?:  Well Aware solves water scarcity problems in East Africa with sustainable water systems. Projects are reviewed based on viability, potential impact, and several other factors.  Water systems are designed by our engineers and hydrogeologists in collaboration with the community. They are unded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source  A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property. Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members. The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.	Comm	unity Name:
Requestor Information  First & Last name of requestor:  Email:  Phone:  Date:  How did you hear about our organization?:  Thank you for your interest in a water project with Well Aware.  Well Aware solves water scarcity problems in East Africa with sustainable water systems. Projects are reviewed based on viability, potential impact, and several other factors.  Water systems are designed by our engineers and hydrogeologists in collaboration with the community. They are unded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source  A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.  The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.
First & Last name of requestor:  Email:  Phone:  Date:  How did you hear about our organization?:  Thank you for your interest in a water project with Well Aware.  Well Aware solves water scarcity problems in East Africa with sustainable water systems. Projects are reviewed based on viability, potential impact, and several other factors.  Water systems are designed by our engineers and hydrogeologists in collaboration with the community. They are funded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source  A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members. The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.	Reque	stor relationship to community:
Phone: Date: How did you hear about our organization?: How did you hear about our organization?:  Thank you for your interest in a water project with Well Aware.  Well Aware solves water scarcity problems in East Africa with sustainable water systems. Projects are reviewed based on viability, potential impact, and several other factors.  Water systems are designed by our engineers and hydrogeologists in collaboration with the community. They are funded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source  A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.  The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.	Reque	estor Information
Phone: Date: How did you hear about our organization?:  Thank you for your interest in a water project with Well Aware.  Well Aware solves water scarcity problems in East Africa with sustainable water systems. Projects are reviewed by our activity, potential impact, and several other factors.  Water systems are designed by our engineers and hydrogeologists in collaboration with the community. They are funded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property. Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members. The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:	First 8	Last name of requestor:
Thank you for your interest in a water project with Well Aware.  Well Aware solves water scarcity problems in East Africa with sustainable water systems. Projects are reviewed based on viability, potential impact, and several other factors.  Water systems are designed by our engineers and hydrogeologists in collaboration with the community. They are funded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property. Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members. The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.	Email:
Thank you for your interest in a water project with Well Aware.  Well Aware solves water scarcity problems in East Africa with sustainable water systems. Projects are reviewed based on viability, potential impact, and several other factors.  Water systems are designed by our engineers and hydrogeologists in collaboration with the community. They are funded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source  A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members. The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.	Phone	:
Thank you for your interest in a water project with Well Aware.  Well Aware solves water scarcity problems in East Africa with sustainable water systems. Projects are reviewed based on viability, potential impact, and several other factors.  Water systems are designed by our engineers and hydrogeologists in collaboration with the community. They are funded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source  A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members. The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.	Date: _
Well Aware solves water scarcity problems in East Africa with sustainable water systems. Projects are reviewed based on viability, potential impact, and several other factors.  Water systems are designed by our engineers and hydrogeologists in collaboration with the community. They are funded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.  The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.	How d	id you hear about our organization	?:
Water systems are designed by our engineers and hydrogeologists in collaboration with the community. They are funded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source  A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property. Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members. The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:	Than	k you for your interest in a wa	iter project with Well /	Aware.
funded by our network of donors, implemented by our team in Africa, and maintained by the community and their water committee.  Well Aware implements a limited number of projects each year. To request a new project, please ensure all requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source  A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.  The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:				ble water systems. Projects are reviewed
Requirements are met and provide as much information as possible.  Requirements for all projects  The community has a significant need for a new clean water source  A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.  The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:	funded	by our network of donors, implemen	, ,
<ul> <li>□ The community has a significant need for a new clean water source</li> <li>□ A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)</li> <li>□ The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict</li> <li>□ The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included</li> <li>□ To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.</li> <li>Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.</li> <li>□ A water committee is established</li> <li>□ A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.</li> <li>□ The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.</li> </ul>				request a new project, please ensure al
A possible sustainable water source exists (rainwater, natural spring, ground water)  The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.  The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:	Requ	irements for all projects
The community does not struggle with internal corruption or tribal conflict  The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.  The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:		The community has a significant nee	ed for a new clean water sou	ırce
The land is deeded to the community and documentation is included  To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.  The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:		A possible sustainable water source	exists (rainwater, natural sp	oring, ground water)
To ensure water systems serve the entire community, the proposed site must be community property.  Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.  The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:		The community does not struggle wi	th internal corruption or triba	al conflict
Please include a copy of the land deed with this form.  A water committee is established  A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members. The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:		The land is deeded to the community	y and documentation is inclu	ıded
A community's water committee works together to serve the best interests of all community members.  The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:				posed site must be community property
The committee must consist of at least half women, represent all tribes present, and be committed to community education and the long-term funding and maintenance of the water system.  Please list water committee members and their email addresses and/or phone numbers below:		A water committee is established
		The committee must consist of at I	least half women, represen	t all tribes present, and be committed to
Water committee member's name Email address Phone number	Please	e list water committee members and	I their email addresses and	d/or phone numbers below:
	Water	committee member's name	Email address	Phone number
				-

Additional requiren	nents ii part	nering with	another	organization	l
NGO:	d in:	NGO contact:
$\square$ The non-governmenta	al organization (	(NGO) is officia	lly register	ed with all appro	priate gove	ernment authorities
$\hfill\Box$ The NGO is committee	d to the long-te	rm support of the	ne commu	nity & maintenar	nce funding	of the water system
$\square$ For any services or go	oods provided b	y the NGO, the	ere are no	religious or triba	l affiliations	required or preferred
$\hfill\Box$ The NGO does not st	ruggle with inte	rnal corruption
Please provide a	as much info	ormation as	possible	e about the p	roject an	nd community
Total Population:					_, Children: <sub>_</sub>
	(Please	e include number	of men, won	nen and children)
GPS coordinates or dir	ections from o	closest town: _
Expected project type:	□ repair a	a broken well
		ew well
	□ rainwat	er collection
		e from water storage
		J
Please list all commun	ity facilities (pr	rimary school, s	secondary	school, medical	clinic, orph	anage):
Facility name & service	Number of population served daily	Government/ private	Number of staff	Water source (borehole, pump, spring, rainwater)	Latrines: type and number	Is there a kitchen? Cooking method?
Does the community h	ave any shaml	oas?
What crops are harves	ted?
What is the water sour	ce for shamba	s?
Does the community ha	ave any livesto	ock? Please de	escribe.

Are there hand-wash	re there hand-washing facilities? Please describe.
Is the community str	s the community struggling with specific illnesses or diseases?
Does the community	pes the community keep written records for rates of disease? If so, please describe.
Are there any threats	there any threats of wildlife in the area? Please describe any concerns.
What are the current	nat are the current challenges that are affecting the community concerning water?
Please describe any	Please describe any water challenges the community has faced in the past.
	Is there any water infrastructure in the community? Please include current condition and specifications. (Boreholes, pumps, storage tanks, elevated structures, pipelines, kiosks, tap stands, etc.)
Current water source	Is this water	How far away is this	How reliable is this	How much of the community's (hand pump well, surface	clean?	source?	source?	total current water is provided by this source?
water, spring)		(km or m)		tills source:
Was there a previous	water source th	at failed?
□ No □ Yes (please answer questions below)
What was the previous water source?  Why did it fail?  When did it fail?  When was it installed and who installed it?
									which was it installed and who installed it:

If the source was a well: How was the well pumped? _____

How deep is the well? _____ metres

Please list all boreholes in the community and surrounding communities (within 20 km)

Please include all available borehole reports and documents.

Borehole description	How far away? (km)	Depth	Pump type (hand pump, electric, solar powered?)	Yield	Is water hot or salty?	Has the well ever gone dry?
Does the community have any cisterns? ☐ No ☐ Yes  How large is the cistern?
How many rain	ns does it take to	o fill a cistern?
When are the	rainy seasons?
How much rain	nfall do you rece	eive during the r	ainy seasons	Annually?
Has there bee	n any droughts	or floods in the	last two years	? □ No	☐ Yes
	ne any recent ex duration that it o		re weather ev	ents (droug	hts, flooding). Ple	ase include the date	e(s) of
Weather Event			Date			Duration
Please list all	springs in the	area:
Spring description	How far awa	y? Flows all or only af rains?	ter temp	erature ges during	Does this spring ever turn muddy or cloudy?	Has this spring ever gone dry?

Project requests with all available documents (land deed, borehole reports) can be emailed to: kareece@wellawareworld.org

For local assistance in Kenya, please contact:

Mike Mukutu
Project Manager
+254 722396434
Mike@wellawareworld.org

Karen Kavete
Community Manager
+254 733721000
Karen@wellawareworld.org